Foodlink's Curbside Market is running on its summer schedule and is making stops at more than three dozen locations across Rochester and Monroe, Wayne, Orleans, Livingston and Ontario counties.

The mobile market sells fresh fruits and vegetables, at a discounted price, five days a week. This produce stand on wheels supplies food to neighborhoods where people are not always able to buy fresh food because of transportation challenges.

Curbside Market has two trucks and will soon add a third mobile market, thanks to help from the Greater Rochester Health Foundation. They'll be on the road through November.
